In the management of the Blatform ICO Project and Blatform Token sales, it takes utmost care to achieve a regular crowdfunding technique and a steady exchange of value represented cryptographically. However, regulation, laws and interpretation may vary according to jurisdiction in different regions. The Blatform ICO Project involves developing and using different platforms to achieve all the goals listed on the Blatform website. Blatform warns all visitors that buying tokens involves risks. These activities should be carried out by people with knowledge of cryptocurrency, token, blockchain and other cryptocurrency technologies. The buyer should fully understand that his contribution may not result in a valuable or usable token and that the value of such initiatives may result in partial or total loss of the initial payment.
